

The screenshot shows a Slack workspace. On the left, the channel list includes '# general', '# project' (selected), '# random', and '+ Add channels'. Below this are 'Direct messages' with contacts 'eudeze01 you', 'abanjo05', and 'Ravee', followed by '+ Add coworkers' and 'Free trial in progress'. The main window displays the '# project' channel conversation. Messages include: 'can someone initiate the call it's not allowing me to do so for some reason do u guys even receive these messages ????' from eudeze01; 'yes' from abanjo05; 'then shall we have a call pls' from Ravee; 'working on it' from abanjo05; and 'we better have a whatsapp call and here we can show and share the documents' from Ravee. A 'More actions' menu is visible over the last message. The right sidebar shows the profile of 'Udeze Emeka Christopher', who is 'Active' and has a status of '3:21 PM local time'. Below the profile is the 'Contact information' section showing an email address 'eudeze01@student.bbk.ac.uk' and an option to '+ Add Phone'. At the bottom, the message input area shows a text box with 'Message #project' and various formatting tools.
